

HOUSEBREAKERS GET HALL CLUES

Mysterious Theft Was Announced in Advance

has taken on such a peculiar air that it seemed to investigators as if some one were trying to conceal the theft of evidence in the case.

Examine Hall Servants

Orders have been given to Major Mark O. Kimberling of the state police to examine six servants in the Hall home at the time of the murder. The witnesses will be grilled today at Somerville, it is believed, by Inspector Underwood, Chief of Detectives Patrick Hayes of Jersey City, Major Kimberling and Prosecutor Simpson.

Pearl Bahmer Mrs. Eleanor Mills

Among those who are expected to be called in the round-up are: Mrs. Louise Geist Riehl, maid to Mrs. Hall; Barbara Tough, another maid, and Peter Tumulty, former chauffeur to the Halls.

Officials Clash

The extraction of orders by Prosecutor Simpson calling for the arrest of Ralph V. Gorsline as an accessory to the murder and Mrs. Nellie Russell as a material witness have complicated the case. Mr. Simpson now declares that the warrants, although issued by County Judge Frank Cleary, are being held up. Judge Cleary asserts that he issued no warrants.

Mr. Simpson declared he had ordered Capt. Lamb of the state police to get the warrants and hold them in abeyance. He said he "insisted" that the warrants be obtained because he feared that Gorsline and Mrs. Russell were making preparations to hide. In the event that they do try to hide, Mr. Simpson infers, the warrants will be served.

Missing Witness

An important witness for the state is reported missing. She is Mrs. Minnie Clark of New Brunswick, who was a member of the church choir in which Mrs. Eleanor Mills sang and in which the Rev. E. W. Hall was rector. Mrs. Clark is supposed to know something of the affair between the rector and the singer and is said to have imparted some of the information to those who are being questioned in the investigation.

Meanwhile, Mrs. Frances Stevens Hall, who is free in $15,000 bail on a charge of murdering her husband and his choir singer, continues to remain in seclusion at her New Brunswick home.

Mrs. Hall's former maid, Mrs. Louisa Geist-Riehl, was questioned yesterday by Mr. Simpson, who later defended her, asserting she was innocent of any connection with the crime.

Raymond Schneider and Pearl Bahmer, who found the bodies of Rev. Hall and Mrs. Mills on the old Phillips farm September 16, 1922, are to be questioned again in the new investigation.

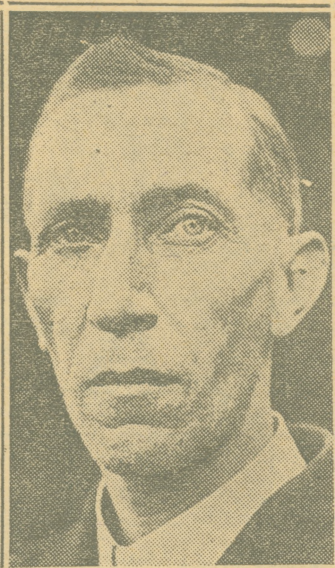

Kin Fight for Custody of Boy

A 4-year-old boy today is the principal in a legal fight waged for his custody by his father and the sister of the child's mother.

The boy is Edwin Spitzer, Jr. His mother died in July while on a visit to her sister, Mrs. Dallas Rollins, of Atlantic City. Mrs. Rollins and her husband kept the boy.

But Edwin's father, Edwin Spitzer, of 361 South 7th St., Newark, wants him, too. He was suing Edwin's mother for divorce and has since remarried.

Awaits Solution

JAMES MILLS, husband of the choir singer who was slain with the Rev. E. W. Hall, anxiously awaits the solution of the four-year-old crime, as Prosecutor Simpson has promised.
